_____ Before Camp Barkalot, LLC can accept any pet into our daycare and boarding facility they must pass a temperament evaluation test. There is no cost for this temperament evaluation and it is for the safety of the staff and other dogs. We cannot allow dogs with any aggressive behavior towards staff members and/or other dogs.

_____ Camp Barkalot can only accept dogs that have been fully vaccinated before joining our daycare and boarding facility. We recommend that your dog(s) be vaccinated every six months for Bordetella. Your dog(s) must also be spayed or neutered (if older than 7 months) to come. If Camp Barkalot makes an exception and your dog comes to our facility and it has not been spayed/neutered, Camp Barkalot is not responsible for any unplanned puppies as a result of your choice to still bring your pet.

_____ Camp Barkalot will provide a safe, clean and social atmosphere. We will permit only playful and non-aggressive dogs in our facility. Pets sometimes like us have a bad day and display bad behavior. In that case your pet may be separated from the rest of the other dogs for 15 minutes to calm down. If the behavior becomes consistent, your dog may be asked to leave until the problem is corrected.

_____ Camp Barkalot will do everything possible to prevent injuries that might occur, but there is always a risk involved in allowing your dog(s) to interact with other dogs (dog bites, scratches, cuts, etc.), even under constant supervision. In the event that your dog causes injury to another dog or person during their stay, you will assume full liability for the actions of your dog and agree to pay for any and all medical bills that might occur. By entering your dog(s) at Camp Barkalot you agree not to file any legal charges against Camp Barkalot or any of its representatives for any injury to your dog.

_____ You acknowledge that pet boarding can be stressful on your pet because of unfamiliar surroundings. This can result in illness, seizures, or destruction of surroundings. You or your emergency contact will be notified immediately. You are aware of this and will not hold Camp Barkalot responsible.

_____ Camp Barkalot provides blankets and bedding for your dog(s) while boarding. Please do not bring toys, blankets, or beds from home. We do encourage you to bring your own dog's food if you would like them to stay on the same diet.

_____ Camp Barkalot will do everything to keep your dog(s) safe and secure during their stay with a sanitized building and making sure all pets are up to date on all required vaccinations. But even a flu shot does not prevent the flu. We recommend that your pet be vaccinated up to date a week before their stay.

By signing below, you have agreed to all terms described above.

BLOAT AGREEMENT FOR CAMP BARKALOT

Any dog is susceptible to Bloat. At Camp Barkalot there is a lot of activity with daycare and boarding when dogs are playing.

Extra large breeds of dogs with deep chests are more susceptible to a medical condition called “Bloat”. Gastric dilation and volvulus syndrome (GVD), more commonly referred to as gastric torsion or “bloat”, is a disease in dogs in which the stomach dilates and then rotates, or twists, around its short axis. A number of emergency conditions may result as a consequence of this gastric rotation.

Bloat develops suddenly, usually in a healthy, active dog. The dog may have just eaten a large meal, exercised vigorously before or after eating, or drank a large amount of water immediately after eating. They may also gulp air if they drink too much water too quickly.

Bloat can occur in any dog at any age, but typically occurs in middle age to older dogs. Large breed dogs with deep chests are anatomically predisposed. These breeds include the Great Dane, German Shepherd, St. Bernard, Labrador Retriever, Irish Wolfhound, Great Pyrenees, Boxer, Weimaraner, Old English Sheepdog, Irish Setter, Collie, Bloodhound, and Standard Poodle. Chinese Shar-Pei and Basset Hounds have the highest incidence among midsize dogs. Small dogs are rarely affected, with the exception of Dachshunds, who are also deep chested.

At Camp Barkalot, where there is doggy daycare and boarding, there is a lot of activity for my dog. Camp Barkalot is not responsible if my dog has symptoms or develops symptoms of bloat. I understand there are risks involved with letting my dog play and exercise at the facility. I am totally responsible for any vet bills or surgery required for this condition.
